CREATING ART THROUGH DESTRUCTION

I'm an experimental artist dedicated to uncovering the darkest secrets music and sound. I utilize principles of synthesis, noise and experimentation to find unique sounds and fine-tuned tone.

My experience studying at the Los Angeles Film School further developed my skills and gave me a wealth of musical knowledge I am ready to apply. Through my fellow classmates, I have been able to work on interesting projects that have pushed my limits as an artist and collaborator.

PUTRID is a project meant to showcase the endless possibilities of musical, auditory and visual art.
